3. Any other information you would like to share :
Even though I had chosen the commerce stream after class ten, I had developed an aptitude for software and coding at the same time. To boost my skills, I began taking coding classes after school. Gradually, I continued my coding enthusiasm well into my graduation years, learning new technologies outside of class hours. I was able to create modest software applications on my own at the beginning of my final year. As previously said, I used my expertise to create an app for my college. This application served as my trump card in subsequent job interviews, allowing me to demonstrate my abilities. Eventually, I managed to land my first job as a software developer in Lulu Forex and worked for more than 2 years, where I learned more about the IT field as well grew technically professionally. I was also allowed to lead mentor juniors, which also helped me discover my interest to work on my leadership entrepreneurial skills. Hence, I would like to boost my career by combining my technical skills along with improving my management skills of an organization by pursuing the PGP Course at IIM Rohtak.
